Kids Learn As They Play

Hidden pictures and shape sorting play provide fun and surprises. They also help your child learn shape recognition, develop hand-eye coordination and enhance memory skills. Changing the location of the pictures encourages curiosity and a sense of discovery.

How To Turn the Picture Wheel

Turn the picture wheel to change the location of the pictures underneath the shapes, for a surprise every time a piece is lifted. To turn the picture wheel, move the thumb-wheel on the side of the toy, or turn the "spokes" on the back of the toy.

Activities

1. Shape Matching: Kids build their shape recognition skills as they match the circle, square and triangle shapes with the corresponding holes.
2. Peek-A-Boo: For younger children who are still learning to grasp and hold, you can lift the pieces for "peek-a-boo" games.
3. Lift-and-See Fun: Kids develop their fine motor skills as they grasp and lift the pieces to see the pictures underneath.
4. Guessing Game: Point to a particular shape and ask your child to guess "What's Under This Piece?"
5. Hide-and-Seek: Ask your child to look for a particular picture that's "hiding" under one of the pieces.
